II. General Collection Guidelines:

A. Languages:

English is the primary language of collection, with exceptions where appropriate.

B. Chronological Guidelines:

Materials will be purchased on theatre of all time periods, from the ancient world to the present.

C. Geographical Guidelines:

Emphasis will be on materials about Western theatre, but basic information on non-Western theatre will also be collected.

D. Types of Material:

- Books (including dictionaries, encyclopedias, play indexes, review indexes, bibliographies, and biographical directories). Plays and books of scenes and/or monologues are especially important. Plays written from about 1900 onward in America and Great Britain will be acquired more fully than those of other times or places. Current plays, especially those in performance, will be added regularly as they are published
- Journals
- Subject indexes, both electronic (e.g., Expanded Academic, MLA Bibliography, Current Contents, Arts and Humanities Citation Index, Lexis-Nexis, America: History and Life, Dissertation Abstracts, etc.) and print (e.g., Humanities Index, Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature).
- CD's, audiotapes, DVDs, and videos are collected where appropriate.
- Books which are used as textbooks in Clemson classes will not be purchased solely for that reason, but use as a textbook will not exclude the purchase of a useful book.

E. Date of Publication:

Generally, books published in the last three to five years will be selected, with exceptions where appropriate (for example, plays of any time period or older books on costume).

F. Other General Considerations:

Because of the broad range of subjects that a student of Theatre may find relevant, acquisition policy for materials covered by other information access policies may also be of interest.
